

Adlumin Selected as a Preferred Service Provider for the Community Bankers Association of Illinois (CBAI)

The company solidifies its mark on the CBAI community by becoming a Preferred Service Provider (PSP).

[WASHINGTON, January 20, 2022] – This morning, Adlumin announced that it is a Preferred Service Provider (PSP) for the Community Bankers Association of Illinois (CBAI). The managed security services platform will bring world-class cybersecurity solutions to community banks throughout the Illinois area.

CBAI, through its business services subsidiary, the Community BancService Corporation (CBSC), is dedicated to helping community banks stay competitive, which benefits their customers and the communities they serve. This is accomplished by delivering quality education, effective political representation, and essential products and services.

"Adlumin has developed an affordable product that CBSC leadership bankers believe will become the gold standard software to protect and defend community banks' IT networks," said Mike Kelley, President of the Community BancService Corporation, Inc. "The platform provides an additional layer of cybersecurity management that bankers want and regulators will come to expect."

As the command center for security operations, Adlumin will provide CBAI members with many services including, telemetry collection software and integrations, a serverless data processing architecture, data science and threat research strategies, active directory, and account monitoring. In addition, the platform includes deep and dark web monitoring and log management capabilities.

"Here at Adlumin, we specialize in providing community banks with unparalleled cybersecurity solutions," said Robert Johnston, CEO of Adlumin. "As an ICBA ThinkTECH Accelerator 1.0 graduate, we understand what community bankers need and how to tailor our platform to meet those needs. We look forward to beginning our journey as a Preferred Service Provider."

Adlumin has years of experience working with community banks around the country. The company looks forward to supporting community bankers in the Illinois area and supporting CBAI's advocacy and education efforts.

For more information, contact Greg McCreight at (512) 484-8406.

###

About Adlumin

Adlumin Inc. is a patented, managed security services platform built for corporate organizations that demand innovative cybersecurity solutions and easy-to-use, comprehensive reporting tools. The Adlumin team has a passion for technology and solving the most challenging problems through the targeted application of data science and compliance integration. Our mission is to "add luminosity" or visibility to every customer's network processes through real-time threat detection, analysis, and response to ensure sensitive data remains secure. www.adlumin.com

